More about our surgery:

Well it all really started at the Northern Polyclinic (NPC) which has had a presence in Corrimal since 1992. She is the oldest of the clinics I manage and kind of like a big sister to the other clinics, offering after hours support on the weekends. Located just 5 minutes drive from the beach and an hour and 15 minutes from Sydney it's probably one of the closest DWS practice to Sydney. On top of that the NPC has AON status making it a good choice for OTDs wanting to work whilst they prepare for their fellowship exams. The NPC is a busy general practice that serves the Northern Suburbs of Wollongong and is amply equipped with 7 consulting rooms and nurse. Considerable development is slated for completion in 2011 for the local area and I anticipate that the NPC will continue to grow vigorously into the future.

We are Bulk Billing practice and believe excellent health care should be accessible to all. We run by appointments but all urgent cases are treated appropriately in the time frame required.

We support an integrated and holistic approach to health care and engage allied health workers such as practice nurse, psychologist and dietitian. Our administration staff and highly experienced and attend regular in house training and development.
